Saskatchewan's minimum wage rose from $7.95/hour to $8.25/hour on Jan. 1, 2008. Further planned increases will see the minimum wage jump to $8.60 on May 1, 2008 and to $9.25 per hour on May 1, 2009, according to an Oct. 3 government announcement. The minimum call out pay, which is three times the level of the minimum wage, will also increase accordingly.
